Earlier this year, two events hosted by the Medical Enterprise Development Group, highlighted the impact one small, value-based company, can have in the building of international business and community relations.

Judeo-Christian Values

By placing our joint Judeo-Christian values and teachings front and center, M-EDG (say: "Image") demonstrated the importance and ability of Jewish and Christian business people to take the lead in developing local community support for Israel – support that will in turn bring blessings to both Israel's economy and our own here in the United States. M-EDG's leaders hope that other companies will rise to the challenge as well.

MK Efi Eitam

hero and IDF general, urged Christians and Jews to work together. In an insightful address that was delivered with both candor and wit, Gen. Eitam shared his vision and personal insight while reminding the attendees that, given the current social and political climate, Americans and Israelis need to be prepared to make sacrifices to save the values shared by both.

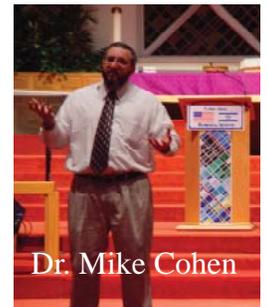

The General also shared a dramatic, highly personal turning point in the Yom Kippur War, when he himself, as a young Captain, fired a single shot from a World War II bazooka at the lead tank of the Syrian Tank Division as it advanced. That one, well-placed shot caused enough confusion and alarm among the Syrian column, that his unit was able to repel the invading army of an estimated 2,500 tanks! In his own words, it was truly reminiscent of David vs. Goliath. (The video of Gen. Eitam sharing his account of the Syrian tank incident is available online at www.EventJAX.com.)

Prayer, Knowledge, Power & Love

The second event featured the founder of The Galilee Institute (www.gogalil.com), Dr. Mike Cohen. An active IDF reservist for over 22 years, Dr. Cohen is now involved in drafting the IDF's international communications strategies. He spoke to the Jacksonville Christian community concerning the terrorist threat at home and abroad, and shared his vision of critical items that we as Christians can do to stand with Israel. Dr. Cohen also appeared on Outside the Wire a local radio program with Rabbi Eliezar Ben Yehuda (www.benyehuda.us) His presentation was well received by the attendees at Beach United Methodist Church – with questions and answers that ranged from the current nuclear threat from Iran to how we as Christians can support Israel through these difficult times.

- the combination of

and government - is to a metropolis what the heart is to the human body.

Ed Silvano

In answer to this last question, Dr. Cohen outlined five tangible ways the U.S. Christian Community can demonstrate its support for Israel:

- 1) Prayer
- 2) Knowledge
- 3) Powerful Communication
- 4) Love Offerings
- 5) Tourism ...

AND Investment

This final item being the primary focus of M-EDG and its Israel Biomedical Initiative.)

M-EDG (on the Internet at www.M-EDG.com)

also has a vision to bless Israel (Gen 12:3), by establishing an innovative, highly beneficial and effective means to commercialize Israel's extraordinary biomedical innovations (considered among the best globally!) here in the U.S., the largest global market.

Both M-EDG and its wholly-owned subsidiary the Israel Biomedical Initiative have allocated an equity position with each of their subsidiary business units that will establish community foundations make significant, faith-based contributions back into each of the communities where they do business in the US and Israel.

“Work With Us!”

M-EDG's first event featured retired Brigadier General Efi Eitam, a rabbi, and now a member of the Israeli Knesset, the nation's parliament. Speaking on Super Bowl Sunday before military, business and political leaders, General Efi Eitam, a retired Israeli war
